

THE POWER OF BEING UNDERSTOOD

GLOBAL COMPLIANCE AND REPORTING SERVICES

Gaining visibility and confidence in managing your global opportunities and risk

Instead of juggling dozens of different providers in markets scattered around the world, you can manage your entire global compliance needs through a dedicated U.S.-based team. This provides you with direct access to a proven global network in over 110 countries with more than 37,000 professionals wherever you do business.

Succeeding in a global economy means having the agility to pursue opportunities in any market. Operating in the global market not only expands your business growth opportunities, it also exponentially increases your compliance and reporting demands. This presents real risks that you should be aware of. Inaccurate reporting and inconsistent oversight can expose your business to potential risks and unexpected costs or results that you want to know about. Missed global filings can translate to substantial fines or halt to operations in important markets. Executives and directors can even face personal exposure for compliance failures.

Statutory audits, international tax requirements, financial reporting, employment compliance, expansion considerations—for many companies, successfully managing these challenges means trying to coordinate with multiple service providers in each market where you operate. Other companies may attempt to manage these tasks in-house using resources that are not likely local country subject matter experts. RSM's global compliance and reporting services (GCRS) approach offers you a more integrated solution to either of these scenarios.

A centralized solution to a world of challenges

Instead of referring you to an ad hoc mix of providers, RSM offers you a single point of contact—becoming your global partner. RSM is focused on helping internationally active companies, like you, effectively manage the full spectrum of reporting and compliance concerns. Our dedicated team will invest the time and effort to fully understand your business and your global strategy. And our GCRS approach for your organization is supported by our dedicated, U.S.-based global project management office (gPMO) team.

The gPMO boasts proven project management capabilities and tools, including our proprietary Global Tracker software, which gives you access and visibility to all the global activity, people, documentation and deliverables you need. And it connects you directly to the RSM International network—37,000 people in over 110 countries as needed for where you do business.

Proven relationships, proven results

Our dedicated team works every day with our member firms around the world helping organizations meet their global challenges. No matter what market you're operating in, take comfort in knowing those teams already know the intricacies of the tax, accounting and compliance issues you will face.

Instead of having to scramble on your own to manage a disparate list of strangers, you'll be working with a dedicated team of professionals with proven relationships—they are your resource and will be easy to access.

Whether you're making your first inroads overseas or are already operating in numerous foreign markets, we can help you build a customizable solution that works for you. RSM's GCRS approach already effectively serves numerous companies ranging in size from $50 million to over $90 billion in annual global revenues.

A solution that grows with you

As you move to explore new opportunities in new markets, you can act with confidence knowing that you already have the infrastructure in place to help you address your global requirements and risks.

But the power of RSM's GCRS doesn't stop there. We know compliance and reporting isn't your only international concern. Maybe a merger or acquisition is on the horizon. Maybe you need local, regional or global IT advice, risk management, transfer pricing or tax planning help. The same team that you work with to access our powerful network of global resources will work to connect you with the right resources to address any of your strategic business challenges.

Our GCRS approach comes down to understanding—your business, your global strategy and how you want to be served. Understanding that transparency, access and accountability are better than a roster of strangers scattered across the globe. We know that the burden of global compliance shouldn't be a roadblock to your global growth.

That's the power of RSM. The power of being understood.[®]

Global organization challenges	The RSM difference
